BATTLE WITH THE GREASERS

Is Fought by American Troops in Mexico Wednesday, but Details
Are Yet Unknown.

Latest From Mexico.

Stragglers who reached the headquarters of Gen. Pershing last night reported that the attack, made upon the Americans by Mexicans under Gen. Gomez at Carrizal, was entirely unprovoked. Gen. Pershing, while awaiting official information from the Eleventh Cavalry command, sent to the relief of the Tenth, forwarded this information to Gen. Funston. The report of stragglers was that the Mexican machine gunfire was begun after a conference between the commanding American officer and Gen. Gomez without any previous warning.

In a statement given out last night by Gen. Trevino, in connection with the story of the attack as related by one of the American prisoners, he stated that he would still follow his original orders and attack any force of Americans that advanced in any except a northerly direction.

All along the border, with one or two exceptions, the Mexicans are moving their troops, supplies and civilians back into the interior. At Juarez the evacuation is said to have been practically completed.

Washington officials last night, pending the receipt of an official report from the American commander, were inclined to regard the Carrizal encounter as a detached incident and not necessarily one signifying or leading to hostilities.

Fort Thomas was selected as the mobilization point for the Kentucky militia last night by Secretary Baker after a conference at the War Department, and an order was sent to the state authorities instructing them to take their forces to the concentration camp at the earliest possible moment. The Central and Western Army Department heads were notified last night to send 5,000 militiamen to the border as soon as they could be got in readiness.

El Paso, Texas, June 23.—American and Carranza troops fought a bloody battle Wednesday only a few hours after President Wilson's 6,000 word rebuke Tuesday to General Carranza had gone forward to Mexico City.

The Americans lost twelve dead, including their commander, and seventeen prisoners, while fourteen Carranza soldiers were killed and thirty wounded in the battle of Carrizal Wednesday, according to the official announcement today of the Mexican consulate. The consulate announced that complete details had been received from Villa Ahumada. The Americans removed their wounded with them. The name of the American commander is still unknown. The bodies of the American dead were counted as they lay on the field of battle.

The engagement took place on the Santo Domingo ranch near the Mexican town of Carrizal, which is nine miles southwest of Villa Ahumada, the Mexican field headquarters in Northern Chihuahua.

The Americans engaged are thought to have been members of a troop from the Tenth Cavalry, a negro regiment, returning from a scouting trip to Guzman. The size of the Mexican force, whose commander, General Felix Gomez, was killed, is not known yet.

News of the battle was received in Juarez by General Francisco Gonzales, Carranza commander of the military zone of the border. For some reason General Gonzales kept the story secret until late in the afternoon, when an American, J. C. Huppel, returning to the border from the interior, brought to El Paso the news that he had seen numbers of Mexican dead along the Mexican Central Railroad tracks at Villa Ahumada, and had been told there had been an encounter.

General Gonzales's first step after confirming the news was to issue a statement placing the blame on the American commander. He charged that the American troops fired first on the Mexicans, but that their shots were directed at a courier who had just presented to them a request that they retire.

American army officers declared absolute disbelief tonight in General Gonzales' assertions. The opinion was expressed that if the Americans fired on the Mexicans they did so because it was necessary in order to insure their own safety.

A new version of the Carrizal engagement was brought to El Paso Thursday by a Mexican civilian, who was in Villa Ahumada early Wednesday afternoon and said he assisted in dressing some of the Mexican wounded.

He said that General Felix Gomez the slain Carranza commander, had been aware of the approach of the Americans for twelve hours and had sent a number of couriers to them warning them to return to their encampment.

When they persisted in their advance, he said, a pitfall several hundred feet in length was dug directly in the trail over which the cavalrymen must ride. This was cleverly concealed with brush.

As the Americans rode unsuspectingly thru the sand dunes toward the entrenchment, General Gomez lay concealed some hundred yards away in the mesquite.

CHAUTAUQUA A GREAT SUCCESS

Big Audiences Are Being Delighted and Splendid Entertainment Is Winner in Every Way.

Stanford's Chautauqua is a magnificent success in every way. With two day's programs having been completed up to the hour the L.J. went to press today the Woman's Club has been able to meet every expense, pay every bill, liquidate the entire cost of the Chautauqua and will have money in the treasury when everything is said and done.

But equally as much as the financial success of the venture is being offered as delightful entertainments in every way. The two attractions so far given have been splendid in every way. The service of the Alkahest Bureau could hardly be improved upon. Co-operating with the Stanford Woman's Club, which never does anything by halves, the Chautauqua patrons have been cared for and entertained in a manner which leaves little more to be desired.

The large tent on the lot back of the college building is comfortable and commodious. Pretty young lady ushers have been provided who see that everyone secures a good seat.

Dr. W. J. Mahoney, the platform manager, starts off each program with zest. He knows his business well.

The opening afternoon performance on Wednesday was well attended, mostly by season ticket holders, which is proving the case for the afternoon, the big audiences coming at night.

A crowd which filled every seat in the large and commodious tent was present for the first evening performance of the Chautauqua. The first number was a very strong one. The attraction was the Lyceum Ladies' Orchestra, and the immense audience was delighted with the evening's entertainment. A good crowd had heard the ladies perform in the afternoon but their real program was in the evening. All of the members of this orchestra are real artists and every number was encored several times. The program rendered was as follows:

All of America—Mohden.
Overture, "Zampa," Herold—Orchestra.
Cornet Solo, "Jupiter Polka" Goldmann—Miss Keller.
Selection, "Down South" Myddleton—Orchestra.
Violin Solo, "Hungarian Dance"—Miss Eiler.
Baritone Solo, "Toreador"—Mr. Barbour.
"Egyptian Ballet," Luigini—Orchestra.
Reading, "Cornstalk Fiddle"—Miss Larcher.
Cello Solo, "Barcarole"—Miss Beebe.
Baritone Solo, (a) "Exhortation," Cook; (b) "Bow Leg Boy," Bergen—Mr. Barbour.
American Patrol—Orchestra.
Packard, the cartoonist and all-around artist was the attraction Thursday and to say he pleased and delighted the big audiences which greeted him is expressing it mildly. He is a star of the first magnitude. He kept his audience convulsed with laughter or serious with the pathos of his remarks, at his pleasure. Scores declared after the close of Thursday evening's performance that they have already secured more than the worth of their whole season's ticket. And there are other good things yet to come.

The Hampton Court Singers are here this afternoon, followed by a lecture by Dr. Mahoney. In the evening the Hampton Court Singers give their big program.

Saturday afternoon Dr. Mahoney lectures, and Saturday night one of the star features of the Alkahest program will be given. It will be the lecture by Judge George D. Alden, of Massachusetts on "The Needs of the Hour."

Sunday afternoon there will be a Chautauqua mass meeting and union services followed by an address by Judge Alden. There is no charge to the Sunday afternoon number.

Monday afternoon the Royal Welsh Male Quartette gives 30 minutes of music and Dr. Mahoney talks and that night the Royal Welsh Male quartette gives its grand concert.

The Chautauqua concludes Tuesday with a short concert by the Beasley Sisters Concert Company in the afternoon and their grand concert that night, with Miss Eileen Beatty as soprano soloist.

GARRARD BOY HURT.
Paul Stapp, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Stapp, of Garrard, was the victim of a serious accident at his home in the Lancaster suburbs, the youth being up on the topmost branch in a high cherry tree, and in some way losing his footing he fell a distance of some forty feet. He sustained a fracture of the shoulder blade and required the attendance of two physicians.

BOOTLEGGERS HARD HIT AGAIN

Two Moreland Negroes, to Whom
Chas. Reid Had Whisky Shipped, Catch Heavy Fines.

Two more Moreland bootleggers caught stiff fines in court here Thursday, when Judge J. P. Bailey slapped $100 and 10 days in jail on Felix Anderson and $50 and 10 days on George McCormack. Both are colored. The testimony showed that Charley Reid, who is now hiding out to avoid payment of a $3,000 fine, had bought liquor from a wholesale house and had it shipped to Moreland to these two negroes. Bills were found, from the whisky houses, showing the amounts of the shipments and the names of those to whom Reid had the booze sent. Anderson was shown to have obtained 20 gallons of whisky since January 22, 1916. Reid, McCormack and Walter McCormack were acquitted on similar charges.

Deputy Sheriff W. S. Drye Thursday also arrested Jonas Ingram, a white man of that section, and who is father-in-law of Charley Reid. The indictments for selling whisky have been returned against Ingram by the grand jury.

Friday morning Frank and Brack Reid, brothers of Charley, were brought to jail here, having been arrested upon evidence of the Law and Order League of the West End, which has determined to break up boot-legging in that section if it can be done. They are charged with having liquor in their possession for purposes of sale. John Alcorn, a negro, charged with having tried to whip a negro woman, was also arrested and brought to jail. The trial of the two Reid boys will probably be held Monday.

MORE OIL IN ESTILL COUNTY
An entirely new oil field was struck near Irvine Friday afternoon when a wildcat well, with every appearance of being a fifty barreler, was struck on the farm of John Edwards, located on the Middle Fork county, in the lower edge of Estill county. The well is located about two miles southwest of the originally defined oil field, and is about eight miles directly south of Irvine and one and one-half miles from the Jackson county line. The well was drilled in by Gaines, Marcum and Neely, one of the most active operating companies in the field. It is predicted that a stampede will be made to Irvine in the next few weeks. 161 persons on horseback having crossed the toll bridge spanning the Kentucky river during the morning on their way to the new oil field.

AUTO ACCIDENT AT RICHMOND
Jack Duerson and Miss Dixter White, of Richmond, who was riding with him, were thrown from an automobile near there Sunday when the car went over a ten-foot embankment. The accident was caused by a wheel coming off the car, which was traveling at a high rate of speed. Both were thrown into some trees but neither was seriously hurt. The automobile turned completely over and was demolished. The mishap occurred just outside the city limits of Richmond on the Lancaster road.

FEATURE FOR SATURDAY
Judge George D. Alden, for twenty years a practicing attorney and jurist in New York and Massachusetts and for five years a giant of the American platform, contending that personal righteousness is the real foundation of civic virtue, will be a big drawing card of the Stanford Chautauqua Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

Judge Alden presents a pleasing appearance, has an excellent speaking voice and delivers a message of original ideas which appeal to the good, sound judgment of every one in a manner both convincing and entertaining. His language is strong and simple, pile driving in its intensity and searching in its analysis, illuminating his subject with plenty of spicy humor, as no one else could do, while striking mighty blows for truth. ## MISS NUNNELLEY WINS MEDAL

At Moreland W. C. T. U. Contest—
District Convention Meets
There Two Days.

The W. C. T. U. Convention held at Moreland the 15th and 16th was one of the best ever held in this district. The gold medal contest held on the evening of the 15th was well attended and a great deal of interest manifested. Miss Cora Nunnelley won the medal. The two sessions of the convention held on the 16th were well attended and full of enthusiasm. Delegates were there from Danville, Stanford, Hustonville, McKinney, Liberty and Moreland Unions.

Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, the state president, conducted the institute hour which was helpful to all present. Some splendid talks and papers were also read, reports from different unions, showing much good work done in past year. Moreland was untiring in extending her hospitality. An excellent noon lunch was served. The convention was closed with Mrs. Beauchamp's magnificent address, which many said was the best she ever heard to give.

The resolutions adopted at the convention were as follows:
With gratitude to our Heavenly Father for this convention, We, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Division B, of the Eighth District of Kentucky in Convention assembled at Moreland, June 16th, 1916, do hereby declare:
First—That we are organized for the prohibition of the liquor traffic, and do re-affirm our stand for total abstinence for the individual, and for State and National Prohibition.

Second—That whereas scientists have proven that tobacco is harmful especially to the growing youth, we do hereby oppose the use of it, and declare for even greater activity in education against it, especially the cigarette.

Third—That we do rejoice in the recent efforts made in this county for the enforcement of the prohibition laws and do hereby ask that the county officers do all in their power to convict the transgressors of the law.

Fourth—Whereas the liquor traffic is the great enemy of the home, and state, and we believe that prohibition and woman's suffrage go hand in hand we do declare our belief in equal suffrage for woman with man, that by united efforts the home and public conditions may be improved.

Fifth—That we have a copy of these resolutions published in the "White Ribbon," the Interior Journal and a copy given the Moreland Union for record in its Minutes, and be spread on the Minutes of the District.

MISS MANCY WARE,
MRS. WILHOIT,
MRS. JOHN BAUGHMAN,

EVANS—CLOVER.
Miss Annie Evans, of Boyle county, and Mr. Carl Christopher Clover, of Atlanta, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. H. Hutchings, in Danville, Wednesday, Dr. F. W. Eberhardt, pastor of the Baptist church, performing the ceremony. The house was tastefully decorated in pink flowers and the table was also in pink. After the ceremony breakfast was served to the immediate relatives and friends.

LOT SALE NOT A SUCCESS
Moreland people here late this week reported that the lot sale held there Wednesday did not come up to expectations, and as the total amount realized did not aggregate a sufficient amount to meet the expectations of Renzo King, the owner of the property, the sales were called off. Little advertisement was done of the sale, and buyers were not on hand.

BUILDING A GREAT ROADWAY ROCKCASTLE ROAD BOOSTERS

State Inspector Comes Here to Look at Work on C. O. Pike.

"Uncle John" White, of Richmond, former representative from Madison county in the legislature, was here Monday afternoon, to inspect the state-aid road which is being built on the Crab Orchard pike. "Uncle John" has been appointed an inspector by the State Road Department, and he found one of the very best roads being built anywhere under state supervision right here. County Engineer McKeeRiffe, who has supervision of the work for the county, is seeing to it that the county is getting the full worth of its money in every way, while the Woodard Construction firm knows how to build a road and is building one that will be a credit and convenience for a long time to come.

The grading of the road from Crab Orchard to the Rockcastle county line which is being done under contract by Gus Gieszl and his force of men is being pushed rapidly and in good shape. Mr. Gieszl had an enormous task before him but he has handled it well and has the road about in shape for metal. He cut down the well known slate hill to about a 7 per cent grade, which was a big job in itself. Arrangements are now being made to build the 40-foot span bridge over the creek. The bridge will be of concrete, and will be a fixture as long as there is a road.

BUYS INSURANCE AGENCY.
D. A. Thomas has sold his Continental Fire Insurance Agency for Lincoln county to J. M. McCarty, brother of W. L. McCarty, and the new proprietor has taken active charge of his new work. Mr. Thomas purchased this agency from the Bromleys some time ago, and has done some fine work with it while here. He has not made definite plans yet but will probably not make Stanford his home after winding up his business affairs, which will be bad news to his host of friends here. Mr. McCarty has many friends and acquaintances all over the county and will in every way endeavor to give them prompt and efficient service and continue to merit a share of their business, which we will appreciate. He will continue the office, with Hughes & McCarty, real estate, on Lancaster street opposite the court house.

YOUNGSTER DRANK BOOZE
Henry, the little son of Seymour Brownfield, of Mercer county, was saved from death by heroic efforts after he had drank a large quantity of whisky this week. The little fellow, who is about five years old, while playing around the house got hold of a bottle of whisky. Before he was detected he drank a quantity out of a quart bottle, something over a half pint it is thought. He was taken violently ill and lost consciousness. He was hurried to town where Dr. Price administered restoratives. After working with the boy for several hours he showed no sign of recovering consciousness and his life was despaired of. However, late Sunday night he revived and is now on the high road to recovery. The boy was unconscious nearly twelve hours.

HEMP BREAKING REVOLUTION
Warren P. Elkin, of Winchester, who recently invented a power hemp breaking machine, has tried it out and finds that it does the work perfectly and economically. The machine has a capacity of four thousand pounds per day of ten hours. The hemp does not have to be rotted so long or so much and there will be a great saving in weight and quality over the old method of breaking and the new machine does not make anything like as much tow as the hand break. When the hemp is sufficiently rotted the hemp can be assembled in the field or better in a barn, if it is convenient, and the hemp can be broken out in any kind of weather. It is constructed on a truck and can be hauled from shock to shock in the field if desired. The machine is being covered by patent for protection.

CAUGHT 'EM IN THE ACT.
Railroad Policeman, J. Egbert Wallin, of Brodhead, tells the I. J., that at the gathering of excursionists at High Bridge Sunday he arrested eight young men who were indulging in a game of craps. He landed them all and took them to Nicholasville where they were fined $50 each. Four youngsters were arrested for drunkenness and they caught it to the tune of $14 each. Capt. Wallin is one of the most efficient railroad detectives in the county.
